

November 7, 1962

MEMORANDUM FOR: C - Mr. Johnson

SUBJECT: U Thant's Proposed Appeal to Castro

Just before lunch today, U Thant sent Ralph Bunche over to the U. S. Mission where he conveyed the following to Adlai Stevenson, McCloy, and Yost, emphasizing the highly sensitive nature of the subject and urging that on no account should this suggestion reach the press in any way since this would foredoom it to failure:

Ambassador Stevenson gave the following personal reaction to Bunche:

This would be no substitute for the along-side inspection of Russian vessels at sea, but might be a useful supplement to it provided

Charles Yost and others in New York think this idea has some promise and request urgent consideration and instructions.

TRANSCRIBED PAGE FOLLOWS

SECRET -- SENSITIVE

November 7, 1962

MEMORANDUM FOR: G. Mr. Johnson

SUBJECT: U Thant's Proposed Appeal to Castro

[Excised]

Just before lunch today, U Thant sent Ralph Bunche over to the U.S. Mission where he conveyed the following to Adlai Stevenson, McCloy, and Yost, emphasizing the highly sensitive nature of the subject and urging that on no account should this suggestion reach the press in any way since this would foredoom it to failure:

[Excised]

Ambassador Stevenson gave the following personal reaction to Bunche:

[Excised]

This would be no substitute for the along-side inspection of Russian vessels at sea, but might be a useful supplement to it provided

[Excised]

Charles Yost and others in New York think this idea had some promise and request urgent consideration and instructions.